Fraudulent registration

- Any person who wilfully makes or produces false certificate, representation or declaration, either orally or in writing shall be guilty of an offence; and liable on conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred maloti or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding twelve months.

Current status of veterinary professionals

- Currently there are 26 veterinarians registered with Lesotho Veterinary Council.
- There are 15 state veterinarians of which 11 are basotho nationals and 4 expatriates.
- There are 4 private veterinarians.
- There are 215 para-veterinarians in Lesotho; of which 150 are employed by the government and 65 are in the private sector.

Challenges (Act)

- Veterinary Surgeons Act No.13 of 1973 is outdated; penalties do not correspond with current developments rendering it ineffective as a deterrent to those that break the law such as impostors.

Challenges (Service delivery)

- There is veterinary skills shortages as the number of veterinarians is far too low for animal populations in the country.
- Lack of interest for basotho students to pursue veterinary profession; currently there is only one student studying to be a veterinarian.
- There is a new trend of veterinarians from other countries using Lesotho as a stepping stone to enter South Africa; they work briefly in Lesotho, while exploring job opportunities in South Africa.
Way Forward

• We need to provide better remuneration packages and working conditions to retain skills that we already have.
• There is a need for aggressive recruitment for expatriate veterinarians as some positions remain vacant for long periods of time.
• We need to intensify our efforts to encourage young basotho to study veterinary profession; government needs to offer scholarships to those who want to pursue veterinary profession.

Way forward

• There is a need for proper career guidance as most students have wrong perceptions that veterinary profession does not have many opportunities like other professions.
• There is a need to review Veterinary Surgeons Act to make necessary amendments that are in line with current developments
• There is a need for regional collaboration and quality control of veterinary professionals needs to be standardised
• Veterinary legislation and registration of veterinarians and para-professionals should be harmonised in SADC region
